

GLOBAL INVASIVE SPECIES DATABASE

EICAT profile: Polypedates leucomystax

MN (Minor)Polypedates leucomystax

Date assessed 2021-06-06 Year published 2021 MN (Minor) Eicat category Justification for EICAT assessment The alien frog Polypedates leucomystax is a host of several parasites which can be transmitted to native species in its introduced range (Hasegawa and Ota 2017, Hosegawa et al. 2018). Confidence rating Mechanism(s) of Transmission of disease maximum impact Countries of most severe Japan impact Description of impact Transmission of diseases to native species - P. leucomystax is a host of several parasites, some of which have arrived on the introduced island with the frog. Sabrina Kumschick; John Measey Assessor Giovanni Vimercati; Mohlamatsane Mokhatla; James Baxter-Gilbert; Corey Thorp; Alexander D. Rebelo; Contributors Sarah J. Davies; F. André de Villiers; Nitya Prakash Mohanty; Carla Wagener; Khensani Nkuna EICAT authority Reviewers Recommended citation Sabrina Kumschick; John Measey. (2025). Polypedates leucomystax . IUCN Environmental Impact Classification for Alien Taxa (EICAT).

