

GLOBAL INVASIVE SPECIES DATABASE

EICAT profile: Aix galericulata

MN (Minor)Aix galericulata

Date assessed 2021-10-11 Year published 2023 MN (Minor) Eicat category Justification for EICAT assessment Hybrids between Mandarin Ducks and Mallards have been observed in the wild (Anas platyrhynchos). There is no evidence that hybridisation caused a decline of Mallards (Lensink, 1996; Lemaire and van Kleunen, 2014). Confidence rating Low Mechanism(s) of Hybridisation maximum impact Countries of most severe Netherlands impact Description of impact Hybrids between Mandarin Ducks and Mallard were observed in the wild in the Netherlands. They also compete with native bird species. Thomas Evans; Tom Allmert Assessor Contributors Reviewers EICAT authority Thomas Evans; Tom Allmert. (2025). Aix galericulata . IUCN Environmental Impact Classification for Alien Recommended citation

